Relationship Coach & LIMRI Training

Learn how coaching dating,
engaged, or married couples can enrich marriages in your church and community

Saturday, August 12, 2017

9:00 am – 4:00 pm

Couples and parents giving away
the grace and strength that God has placed in their relationships and family life

Why is Relationship Coaching Needed?

- Couples learn best when they have a model to follow.
- Short-term coaching can be a very effective way to empower couples to develop healthy patterns of communication, conflict resolution and shared spiritual life.
- Couple-to-couple or parent-to-parent coaching relationships have proven to be very effective.

Training outcomes:

At the training you will learn how to:

- Utilize all facets of the Life in Motion Relationships Inventory (LIMRI).
- Equip couples and parents in the art of conflict resolution: The Change Process.
- Help couples form a shared spiritual life.
- Help couples recognize the grace that God has deposited into their relationships.
- Model and equip couples and parents to effectively pray for each other.
- Increase couple satisfaction in dating, engaged, married and parenting relationships.
